

The Boar

The Sign of Virtue

Gallant Honorable Protective Truthful

The sturdy and patient Boar overcomes any difficulties with an undying and trusting endurance. Boars are quite relaxed and love to live life to the fullest. They are also generous, caring, and understanding! Boars do not need a wide scope of friends, just a handful to be loyal to for a lifetime. Boars are also extremely passionate and believe in miracles. No wonder they have a naturally pure perspective toward most things. What a simply beautiful combination for the twelfth zodiac sign!

Boars are mindful, sweet, funny, sharing, and courteous when the grass is green and everyone is safe, fed and secure. Once they have attained their highly sought after security, Boars are able to enjoy discovering the better side to life, especially within the more distinguished fields of society. Fine art and good food could well be their preferred avenues in which to indulge themselves and their loved ones. Boars wish for a peaceful and loving life. Most are best suited to a life in a country manor, where all the fences are up and the fields are green. Safety and security are paramount!

If one was to take advantage of a Boar's generosity, this gentle and serene character will work out a way to rectify the wrong. They are ultimate defenders of loved ones under threat and they do not shy away from worthy causes. You may not always notice them, but rest assured, the Boar will be working toward a fair solution for all. They can outsmart the best of us when they have to, and they will fight to escape if cornered! No one expects this quiet reserved type to explode into a fit of rage. When they do, someone has pushed them too far, and a Boar in full defense mode will be noticed!

Boars also possess a distinct finesse in their stride which leaves an impression on us all. They are honest by nature and do not wish to entertain any underhanded dealings. They most certainly do not wish to be associated with anyone who threatens to demean their highly respected and virtuous profile! The only reason they may be prone to such situations is because they are often too trusting, and sometimes just way too accommodating. A little caution goes a long way for the friendly Boar. When they affect control and realistic compliancy, their faith and generosity will serve them well!

Boars shine brightest with Good Karma when they are considerate, devoted, pure and courageous!
