

The Horse

The Sign of Passion

Accomplished Energetic Graceful Persuasive

It is not surprising the Horse received its own year. Given the history of the world, Horses have been a very reliable supporter to mankind. They have helped build many a civilization, and have also been employed to destroy them as well. Not only are they fast, physical, sure footed and highly astute, but they are also tireless workers. Horses are also used to being independent and world class achievers!

The Horse is very lucky to have been blessed with an extraordinary instinctive sense. Not only are they perceptive, but they also offer us a very gentle and understanding nature. It is uncanny that such a strong character can also be so very soft and sensitive. They make for great friends when times get tough and we need some love and support! The stylish and debonair Horse is a true tower of spirit!

Our friend the Horse is practical and able to master many different tasks. This 'jack of all trades' ability can confuse them however. They may consider they know the best way to get on with life, but this is not always the case. They are headstrong and may rely only on their dignified manner and passion to get results. It will only frustrate them to be held up as they can be extremely impatient by nature. Pushing their way through does not always work in the long run! This is when they should stop and seek counsel. With a little patience and discretion, their passion and energy will deliver results every time.

The majority of the time the Horse is very diligent, sensible, and focused. However, they have certainly been known to kick their heels up and run wildly into the unknown. They do not wish to be held back from the adventures that await them. It is not surprising really that they can be ultimately stubborn given their reckless side. Horses will always be themselves and speak their minds!

Horses are not serious all the time, which makes them very entertaining and fun loving friends. They love to express their views, no matter how outlandish. They also get away with a lot when being cheeky, and they just love it! They enjoy holding court, and stirring the pot for reaction! When in love, these powerhouse spirits can be just as adoring as they are majestic. As lovers, their passion is ultimate!

Horses shine brightest with Good Karma when they are remarkable, expressive, clever and considerate!
