

The Ox

The Sign of Strength

Diligent Eloquent Respectable Stable

Those born in Ox years are truly dedicated achievers who make for natural leaders. They are ultra determined and not shy of taking responsibility to manage their successes. The Ox is also tolerant and disciplined with the projects it tackles. Heads down and away they go as they get the job done!

Our friendly Ox friends are priceless additions to have amongst us in reality. They are fair, honest and reasonable in most any situation, and they are often the ones we turn to in times of difficulty! They are our rocks! They are also not afraid of sacrifice when it is necessary. After all, Oxen were instrumental in the development of many civilizations. Ancient empires and monuments did not build themselves!

Strength of character is what the Ox wants to see at the end of the day. Their strength is so deep in fact, they can stand firmly in the middle of any chaotic situation, unfazed, unspoken, and unmoved! Oxen are calm, aloof at times, and even seemingly unworried when provoked by a possible threat!

Whenever times start getting tough, the enduring and silently persistent Ox presses on until any hardship is overcome. They simply rely on their actions to speak for them. Thankfully, they often represent our most trusted pillars of society! What a strong and steadfast character is the Ox!

Be warned! An upset Ox will have no limits with retribution if so provoked, and may well manifest a long term grudge. However, if one was to continue to push their luck with an Ox, they should be prepared for their ensuing retribution. Just as they are super supportive to a worthy cause, they can be twice as powerful in the face of an injustice. They are not big on small talk as it serves no purpose!

Oxen by nature are reliable to those they love. They expect high standards in life and lead by example. They are generous, compassionate and kindhearted souls who would never consider jumping ship when the chips are down. They may even perform an unknown rescue mission or two themselves!

Oxen shine brightest with Good Karma when they are confident, wholehearted, tenacious and loyal!
