

The Snake

The Sign of Wisdom

Compassionate Discreet Insightful Magical

In Chinese mythology, the mouth of the Snake delivered the first human being, who later became the ancestor of all the Emperors of China. The Snake also symbolizes eternity when it curls into a circle, whilst it also symbolizes temptation, as in the Garden of Eden. The ancients considered Snakes to be in constant touch through their extra sensitive vibrations, as well as wise in their theoretical, "out there" type of way!

The sensual and enigmatic Snake is the mystical hypnotist who moves only with grace and poise. Their elegance is both beautiful and mesmerizing. When they eventually arise to tackle a new day, their presence alone presents opportunity. Snakes are naturally captivating, so the stylish and sexy Snake can easily put its prey in its trance. Our Snake friends do however exercise compassion when it comes to calculating their next and every move. One thing is for sure, Snakes are ever so refined when zoning in!

Snakes are ultra efficient and amazingly instinctive. They do not waste either their time or their energy. They are also fast learners and swift in their actions. They recoil quickly and are always ready for what comes their way. When they decide to do something, they will not retreat before accomplishment. The Snake has learned over the years how to survive all conditions, and they do like to get what they want!

If you upset a Snake, you may become a target for payback. The Snake has a long memory and is not against getting even. They may well take their time, as they have no issues utilizing the fine art of a surprise attack. Snakes can be absolutely vengeful if they wish to! They can also be totally unpredictable! If they can control their suspicions and worries, their tenacity and patience should serve them well!

Snakes have a worldly and philosophical outlook and can make for great listeners and advisors, especially spiritually. This works for them as they seem to attain their successes with an apparent ease. Their instinct is uncanny and they are also considered the most likely zodiac sign to see into the future. Snakes prefer the better things in life and are not bothered with the mundane.

The Snake's elegance can easily stop us in our tracks, and they can perform divine magic when attracting a potential lover! Beware the magic spell they weave as you fall into their slinky and protective worlds. When in love, the sensual and loving Snake will totally adore and enchant their partner like no other sign!

Snakes shine brightest with Good Karma when they are philosophical, friendly, unpredictable and tactile!
